Sportsmanship

A New Column for "The Whip" will honor Good Guys.

We all have our own ideas of what "sportsmanship" is. Whatever your definition, it seems as if ADS competitive drivers certainly have a lot of it.

At the recent Kentucky Gayla CDE, 2 incidents were related to the editor which exemplify sportsmanship.

A competitor originally entered in the pair pony class discovered that one of her ponies could not be driven due to a rope burn suffered on the road. Someone offered a pair of shafts to convert her vehicle, another loaned her a single harness, and the competitor went on to win her class and division!

Another competitor arrived at her first event where her pony was found lame at the vet check. A driver in the pair horse division loaned her his spare horse so that she might compete. When one of the pair horse driver's horse came up lame before the final cones phase, rather than ask for the horse back, he retired from the competition.

A member of my local club recently wrote to our newsletter "I have been in many venues of the Horse World as a daughter, a participant and show mother, from gaited division, walking horses, hunters and jumpers, etc. and it has always struck both me and my family that the Driving World people are among the nicest people in the world".

At times it is very easy to be generous and a "good sport", at other times, it can take much soul searching and convincing oneself not to be a "bad sport". As one Technical Delegate was overheard saying during a competitor briefing: "no one wants to or tries to make a mistake".

Many of us, myself included, are involved with the sport of driving because of the many nice people involved - if we liked to ride and drive our horses and ponies alone, we wouldn't need to join an organization and participate in their activities - we do it because of the people.

Help us create a new feature for "The Whip" magazine. Send us your stories of sportsmanship as it relates to carriage driving, along with a photo if appropriate, so that we can recognize some of the good guys. The deadline for the December issue is October 20.

ADS Scrapbook Wants YOUR Picture

A few months ago, a new feature was added to The Whip magazine - The ADS Scrapbook, which invited members to send in photographs of themselves with their horses/ponies and carriages. Only a few members have participated in this new feature and we want more of you included. Recreational drivers are particularly encouraged to use the scrapbook to show examples of non-competitive driving activities that you enjoy. Photographs can be color prints or black and white. No slides please. Professional photos may not be used without written permission by the photographer.

Let other ADS members know how you enjoy carriage driving. The deadline for the December issue is October 20. Send those pictures in!

NEW! NEW! NEW!

The Official Book of The World Pair Championship with text by Nancy Jaffer, photography by Ronni Nienstedt. Bring back the memories and the drama of the greatest pair driving competition in the world in words and pictures. A beautiful book to keep for yourself and to give to your friends. $39.95

The 1995 Mischka Driving Calendar, always a must for the carriage driver. Twelve full size color photographs plus many smaller ones make this calendar very special. The price is still $8.50

Starting to Drive, by Sallie Walrond, illustrations by Carole Vincer, this soft-cover book is part of the Threshold Picture Guides. Detailed illustrations and simple text explain how to fit a harness on the horse, putting to, using the reins, getting in and out of the carriage. $12.95

Driven Dressage Video, a companion video to the Manual for Driven Dressage, both prepared by the ADS Dressage Committee. The video shows the progression of training for the driven dressage horse using amateur footage. We are using a new company to produce the copies. $30.00
